■ MORTADELLA – The 14th century tradition of the ‘Corporazione dei Salsamentari di Bologna’, ‘The pork – Butchers’ Guild’, which sets the rules for its processing, is put into practice every day at the Alcisa plant by their skilled personnel, thus enhancing the prestige of Bologna, universally recognised for food production. Mortadella is a cooked product: cooked in special steaming rooms at a temperature of around 75° to 90° centigrade, after which, in order to enhance the flavour, it is left in rest rooms whereby generating its own heat, a slow and continuous cooking process is assured.
